

Speaker Biographies
HLC Compendium Briefing – The Value of Screening
Friday, June 6, 2014

Mary R. Grealy
President
Healthcare Leadership Council

Mary R. Grealy is president of the Healthcare Leadership Council, a coalition of chief executives of the nation's leading healthcare companies and organizations. HLC advocates consumer-centered healthcare reform, emphasizing the value of private sector innovation. It is the only health policy advocacy group that represents all sectors of the healthcare industry. She was appointed to the position in August 1999. Ms. Grealy has an extensive background in healthcare policy. She has led important initiatives on the uninsured, improving patient safety and quality, protecting the privacy of patient medical information, and reforming the medical liability laws. She testifies regularly before Congress and federal regulatory agencies. She is a frequent public speaker on health issues and has been ranked many times by Modern Healthcare as one of the 100 Most Powerful People in Healthcare and has been named to Modern Healthcare's list of the Top 25 Women in Healthcare for 2009.

Kenneth P. Anderson, DO, MS, CPE
Chief Operating Officer
Health Research and Education Trust
American Hospital Association and
Department of Family Medicine
Clinical Assistant Professor
University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine
[Dr. Anderson is formerly Chief Medical Quality Officer for NorthShore University HealthSystem]

Kenneth P. Anderson, D.O., M.S., CPE, is Chief Operating Officer for Health Research & Educational Trust, an affiliate of the American Hospital Association where he is responsible for management of day-to-day operations and serves as the internal leader of HRET, assisting in the development and integration of the organizational strategic plan across finance, operations, and research for HRET and associated business lines. Dr. Anderson previously served as the Chief Medical Quality Officer for NorthShore University HealthSystem, leading all performance improvement efforts and education and development for the Professional Staff, including peer review, clinical integration and development of performance indicators. He holds an academic appointment at the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine and founded the Center for Clinical and Research Informatics that was charged with using medical informatics to enhance quality and research. Dr. Anderson serves as a Baldrige National Quality Award Alumni Examiner for the U.S. Department of Commerce. Dr. Anderson served as Vice President for Quality and Safety at Memorial Health System in South Bend, Indiana and as Chief Medical Officer for PARTNERS National Health Plans of Indiana. He completed a Family Medicine residency through the University of Iowa, an Internal Medicine residency through Yale University, and a Nephrology fellowship at the University of Southern California-Los Angeles County Medical Center. He practiced clinical nephrology and transplant medicine in Des Moines, Iowa serving as Chief of Staff and Department Chairman of Internal Medicine and Division Chief of Nephrology at Mercy Hospital. He chaired CMS's

Network XII Medical Review Board, providing quality oversight to a four-state dialysis region, was a member of the Iowa State Board of Health, and he advised on national health policy as a member of Senator Tom Harkin's National Health Policy Advisory Team serving the Clinton administration. He helped establish the first provider-owned Accountable Health Plan in the State of Iowa, changing legislation regulating the insurance industry. Following an internship in the Harvard University Executive Program in Health Management, he completed a Masters of Science in Administrative Medicine at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is a Certified Physician Executive and a Diplomate of the American Academy of Family Practice.

Karin Gillespie

Associate Director of Changing Diabetes Policy

Novo Nordisk

Karin Gillespie is Associate Director of Changing Diabetes Policy at Novo Nordisk. As such, she manages a variety of advocacy efforts for Novo Nordisk that are focused on diabetes prevention, detection and care, and improving the lives of people living with diabetes. In addition, she works closely with the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, a 20-member coalition that seeks to change the way diabetes is addressed in the US. Previously, Karin was a consultant with a Philadelphia-based firm that specialized in strategic planning and marketing for health care organizations. In addition, she had her own independent consulting firm, providing strategic planning and writing services to clients that included the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, Foundation of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, Hahnemann University Hospital, Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and other academic medical centers and health care firms. Karin has a BA from Princeton and an MBA in health care from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. She lives in Princeton, NJ with her husband and six children.